

“The terrain was beautiful. The hunt was successful. Beyond all of that, the people in the community have rallied around what you are doing for our Soldiers. It was the hospitality and home-cooked meals shared with wonderful patriotic families that truly made this hunt. I personally plan to recommend this opportunity to as many of our wounded warriors as possible.

— Chaplain (CPT) Jeremiah Catlin

It's not about us as individuals, it's all about the heroes we serve.

— Don Becker, USMC Veteran.

Often, our Wounded Warriors, American heroes, tend to focus on their physical and mental limitations. What the LEEK Hunting and Mountain Preserve program does is enable the Warrior to focus on their abilities, what they can do, not what they can't do. The importance is huge!

— Major General (ret) Scott G. West, U.S. Army

LEEK Preserve is making a remarkable contribution in their support of our disabled veterans — giving them activities and adventure important to their full recovery. My donation is the least I can do for those who have sacrificed so much more. Our warriors deserve our investment!

— Rebecca (Becky) S. Halstead, Brigadier General (R), U.S. Army

Mission

To provide a friendly, handicap-accessible camp environment and therapeutic outdoor activities like hunting and fishing. LEEK believes in encouraging our wounded heroes to focus on their abilities, without compromising their current physical limitations.

Purpose

LEEK believes in providing a safe and friendly environment where wounded U.S. service members can assist each other through the healing process, both mentally and physically. We offer recreational opportunities specifically geared to each wounded veterans' needs and abilities.

About the Program

LEEK Preserve was founded to serve wounded veterans. The Fisher family purchased land in scenic Potter County, Pa., specifically to establish LEEK, a charitable, tax-exempt, 501(c)(3) all-volunteer organization, which offers guided hunts, fishing outings and outdoor experiences for wounded veterans. Dedicated to the memory of their father Lewis H. Fisher who taught them the joys of outdoor recreation.

LEEK is located in north central Pennsylvania, 3.5 hours from Harrisburg, Pa., and 2.5 hours from Buffalo, N.Y. Detailed directions are located on our website.

Providing outdoor recreational activities for disabled veterans

There are an estimated 2.9 million disabled veterans living in the United States right now. Just in the past few years, thousands of servicemen and women have returned from Iraq and Afghanistan with physical disabilities that limit the range of activities they can enjoy.

LEEK Hunting and Mountain Preserve offers disabled veterans opportunities to participate in outdoor recreational activities in a completely accessible and supportive environment.

Hunting and fishing facilities located on this 256-acre property are designed for wheelchair and vehicle access. Lodging and trail vehicles provide our veterans maximum comfort and enjoyment. During their stay, visitors of LEEK Hunting and Mountain Preserve are pampered with home-cooked meals and partnered with experienced local outdoorsmen, many of whom are also veterans.

Located in scenic north central Pennsylvania, LEEK Hunting and Mountain Preserve is part of a community that recognizes and values the sacrifices of our disabled service members. Please contact us for more information at 410-322-4610.

Service and Sacrifice

LEEK Hunting and Mountain Preserve is staffed by veterans and civilian patriots who volunteer their time to help their fellow servicemen and women enjoy outdoor recreation despite any physical limitations. Because of this generosity, donations made to LEEK do not pay for salaries, but are used for wildlife feed, maintenance and upgrade of lodging and hunting facilities, and equipment that helps the veterans better navigate the hunting preserve. LEEK Hunting and Mountain Preserve is a 501c3 non-profit organization. Your donation is tax deductible. Please enclose this form with your donation or go to our website and make a donation via PayPal.
